

Luxaviation officially launches exclusive wine club, by invitation only.

Luxaviation Group, one of the largest private aircraft operators worldwide headquartered in Luxembourg, is announcing the official launch of Luxaviation Fine Wines, a new business line for the procuring, tasting and storing of the world's finest wines and spirits as a dedicated service to its selected club members.

Today, Luxaviation Fine Wines is officially launched to provide clients access to the best vintages throughout the world and to exclusive tasting events for clients which already are part of the group's clientele. During a test phase of only three months, Luxaviation, was able to test all phases of the procurement, client relations and sales process. Luxaviation Fine Wines will offer a limited number of clients a highly personalized approach to buying and collecting, providing not only guarantee its origins but also a professional cellar management and storage.

Luxaviation Group CEO, Patrick Hansen, says: "Luxaviation Fine Wines is yet another proof of our teams' efforts to enhance our guests' experiences and provide them with access to exclusive goods in an effortless way. The longstanding relationships with experts in the industry provide us with access to the best wine. As a leading international operator, we have a responsibility to provide our clients with the very finest service and we take excellence extremely seriously across all aspects and offerings of the Group".

Luxaviation Fine Wines will provide premium wines and spirits on a global scale, sourced directly from top châteaux and domaines - alongside specialist consultancy from world-class trade professionals.

The new offering will allow for privileged allocations of rare wines and spirits directly from the properties and new offers of established names of the industry as well as access to the wine talents of tomorrow. Access to the Luxaviation Fine Wine Club will only be available to the regular clients of Luxaviation Group as well as a finite amount of members and by invitation only.

ENDS

About the Luxaviation Group:

Luxaviation is one of the largest private aircraft operators in the world. It is comprised of some of the world's leading business aviation entities including ExecuJet and Luxaviation Helicopters ('Starspeed').

PRESS RELEASE

10 February 2020

The Group offers a wide range of services including aircraft management for private and commercially registered aircraft, charter, and fixed-base operations (FBOs). Luxaviation operates globally across Africa, Asia-Pacific, the Caribbean, Europe, Latin America and the Middle East, under the regulatory umbrella of 15 air operator's certificates (AOCs). Luxaviation has a global network of 28 FBOs which are operated under the ExecuJet brand.

Combined, Luxaviation operates more than 260 jets and helicopters under the most stringent safety standards. Luxaviation currently employs more than 1,400 employees worldwide.

Further information: www.luxaviation.com / <https://luxaviation-finewines.com/>

Media Contacts Luxaviation Group:

Juliane von Heimendahl
Luxaviation Group
T +41 76 356 8251
juliane.von.heimendahl@luxaviation.com

Pascale Kauffman
Apollo Strategists
T +352 621 889 403
pascale.kauffman@apollo.lu

Attachments: pictures: XXX (source: Luxaviation Group)