

Alex Miclos

President of Business Aviation Support Services

Biography | March 2024

Alex Miclos is the President of Luxaviation's Business Aviation Support Services as well as the CEO of Jet Advisor, one of the largest Operations Control Centers in the world. Born in Timisoara, Romania, he is a graduate of the local British School, and holds a degree in Computer Sciences from the Polytechnic University of Timisoara.

Alex founded Jet Advisor in 2011, after 8 years of experience in various operators, as well as airport, around the world. In those 13 years on the market, under the management of Alex Miclos, Jet Advisor went from 7 aircraft from 1 AOC in 2011, to almost 100 aircraft from over 15 AOCs presently, operating thousands of flights monthly, to varied and unpredictable destinations worldwide. From the initial service offering of Dispatch support, Jet Advisor has developed a wide array of services, such as Flight Cocierge, Crew Control, Procurement, Compliance, and Training, to name just a few, delivered from the 3 offices the company has in Timisoara, Bucharest, and Lisbon.

In over 20 years of aviation career, Alex Miclos has held several management positions in both scheduled and business aviation operators, gathering extensive experience and building trust within the aviation industry.