

Luxaviation Group expands global presence with acquisition of Paragon Aviation Group

Luxembourg – Luxaviation Group, one of the largest business aircraft and helicopter operators worldwide headquartered in Luxembourg, is proud to announce the acquisition of Paragon Aviation Group, a leading network of FBOs and international handling agents, creating a global FBO network of over 140 locations.

Luxaviation Group has continued to expand its global footprint in the aviation industry. Following the recent acquisition of Sky Valet, which integrated 17 Fixed Base Operations (FBOs) into its ExecuJet brand, Luxaviation has now completed the full acquisition of Paragon Aviation Group. Paragon Aviation Group is renowned for providing robust support to its members through strategic sales and marketing initiatives via The Paragon Network and their Strategic Partners. This acquisition marks another significant step in Luxaviation's strategy to strengthen its position in the global market, enhancing its service offerings and operational reach.

Since its founding in 2011, Paragon Aviation Group has undergone substantial network expansion, operational enhancements, and customer relationship strengthening, fortifying its position as a key player in the industry. In 2017, Luxaviation Group forged a strategic partnership with Paragon Aviation Group. The integration into Luxaviation's extensive FBO network will provide substantial international reach and superior services to general aviation customers worldwide. Members of the network benefit from enhanced business opportunities through group networking efforts and extended customer benefits. Each FBO joining the network undergoes a rigorous audit of their facilities and services to ensure the utmost quality. Patrick Hansen, CEO of Luxaviation Group, stated, "Our continued expansion in the global FBO market offers a compelling alternative to the major networks, ensuring premium service and comprehensive offerings for operators worldwide. Paragon Aviation Group, with their outstanding FBO services and esteemed industry reputation, enables us to strengthen our commitment to excellence and advance our strategic vision for growth."

Crystal Kubeczka, who will be appointed as the new President of Paragon Aviation Group effective June 1, 2024, stated, "The Paragon team is committed to ensuring a seamless transition while upholding the high standards of service our clients expect. I am confident that the new leadership will continue to drive the company's success."

About the Luxaviation Group:

Since 1964, the Luxaviation Group has been tailoring private travel experiences for a global clientele. Founded by André Ganshof van der Meersch, a Belgian entrepreneur, pilot and nobleman, our sixty-year history still proudly takes flight with our commitment to creating excellence through visionary, pioneering and innovative private aviation experiences.

Luxaviation Group is comprised of top-of-the-line aviation brands: Luxaviation, Starspeed, and ExecuJet. Our more than 1300 employees work in an around-the-clock operation on five continents, delivering stellar service in the areas of aircraft management for private and commercial aircraft, private air charter services, and the management and operation of VIP passenger terminals in multiple airports around the globe.

Ever innovative in spirit, the group has leveraged its global perspective, carrying the value of its founder into its transformation as the world's premier luxury experience travel company. Through the development of bespoke luxury travel packages in private jets, various ventures, fine wines, and our very own Luxaviation Client Service Training Academy, we are honoured to evolve our brand in keeping with the ever-changing luxury travel landscape.

Luxaviation Group considers corporate sustainability as an integral part of its business strategy. The company integrates sustainability into its decision-making processes, actively handling social and environmental concerns, continuously seeking to improve its operations.
